To believe that what is true in your own heart is true for all men – that is the very essence of Linda Bonadies' music. She looks so deeply into her own heart that somehow her songs seem like they were written just for you. Linda's work is classic songwriting at its best, following such timeless masters as Carole King, Elton John, and Billy Joel. Trained as a classical composer, it is obvious this girl knows what she's doing as she builds strong well-crafted songs with soaring melodies, rich harmonic textures, and catchy rhythms. Her outstanding musicianship is fortified by her powerful experience of rediscovering herself and rediscovering her music during mid-life. She sounds like she has found an old friend she never intends to lose again, singing with an intensity that is penetrating. Linda's lyrics are inspiring messages that exude wisdom and inspire change. She makes you re-examine where you are going in your own life and all the little things you take for granted. Overall Linda's message is very clear: follow what is good and true. Follow what is in your heart.

Trained as a composer, Linda Bonadies earned a degree from Bucknell University and went on to pursue a Graduate Degree in Music Composition from Hartt School of Music. She worked as Associate Director of Marketing for The Bushnell Performing Arts Center in Hartford for 6 years and then became a full time mom. Years later Bonadies rediscovered her musical "voice" as a Singer/Songwriter. Her first album "No Regret" met with much critical acclaim receiving Front Page feature on CD Baby and winning honors in many songwriting competitions including the Indie Acoustic Project, the Pacific Songwriting Competition, and the Unisong International Songwriting Contest. Bonadies has just released her second album "KARMA."

"Karma" IS LINDA'S BRAND NEW 2010 RELEASE!

Linda Bonadies spreads great "KARMA" with her second album. Sub titled "What You Do Comes Back To You," KARMA is a concept album, an inspirational message, and a window into the songwriter's soul all wrapped into one. The title track is an upbeat, Michelle Branch- type, feel good song. Its positive bounce not only sets the tone for this CD but its message that life acts as a circle becomes a musical and conceptual theme for Bonadies as well. The CD begins with positive songs. "Writing positive and inspiring songs doesn't necessarily mean that you have to write sugary sweet, Disney type songs," explains Bonadies. "I try to write about truths which include both the struggles and joys of life." In the middle she veers away toward more complicated subject matter but then circles back to the positive and uplifting, cleverly spinning a surprising and exciting grande finale!

REVIEWS:

Perfect adult contemporary soft rock that explodes right from the first track. Tapping into the work of Carole King, Karen Carpenter, Jann Arden, Elton John and more, her music flowers with a clear, distinct and committed sound – her songs proudly sing out with conviction, push ahead with a solid and “I know where I’m going” sentiment. Built solidly on thumping piano lines that take the lead through the harmonic textures, endowed with her vocals and plenty of rhythm and guitar, “No Regret” is an album that catches the ear, no matter which track you start with. – CD BABY

Bonadies is a breath of fresh air in the saturated realm of adult contemporary artists. The songwriter has lived long enough to exude wisdom, but writes words with the innocent eyes of a child to offer hope amid loss, peace among chaos, and love among the lonely and forgotten. – SONGSALIVE

Bonadies has a great feel for the classic pop song. I’m sure she’s been compared to Carole King many times but I’ve got to say it again. This is quite a compliment of course! - TAXI
